Experience

Bincom Dev Center / Python Developer Apprentice
October 2023 - November 2023, Remote

This is a fintech based company with a vision of helping members of the institute grow their network and not just growing skills. I have worked with them for 2 months as a Python Developer Apprentice. The Job offer a one of with no pay, as I was employed to learn as I worked with them in their activities.

It's a one year contract which started 9th October 2023.

Incidentally, I have not been able to continue on in the contract due to some challenges, of course which were gotten across to the facilitators of the organization. I had gotten a certificate of participation in the Python Beginners Course.

Education
